pitched the last two innings. Baldwin pitched well for Pittsburg for two innings, but beginning with the third he was hit pretty freely. His support was wretched and as a natural result runs were piled up fast. Terry relieved Baldwin after six innings. In the fifth inning, with three runs in, two men on bases and one out, Mack batted in Donovan's place and struck out. Bierbauer was also retired on strikes, ending the inning.

Miller Went to Right Field.

After that Mack caught and Miller played right field. The fielding was very played right field. The fielding was very ragged on both sides. Reilly opened the third inning with a base hit to left field, Philadelphia's first in the game. Knell tried to sacrifice and popped up an easy fly to Baldwin. Hamilton hit salely down the left field foul line and Connor cracked out a single to left field, on which Reilly and Hamilton scored, Smith making a poor throw to third bear which Shugart failed to throw to third base which Shugart failed to back up. Connor reached third base on the error and scored on Hamilton's sacrifice. One scratch base hit and four errors added three more runs to Philadelphia's score in three more runs to Philadelphia's score in the hext inning. Delehanty led off by beating the ball to first base on a slow bounder to Farrell. Cross was safe on Beckley's muff of Bierbauer's quick toss and Baldwin filled the bases by fumbling Allen's bumpy grounder. Reilly trundled a slow one to Shugart, who made a misplay by throwing home too late to catch Delehanty, who had a big start. Bierbauer Also Made a Fumble,

Knell sent Bierbauer a grounder, and that usually reliable second baseman threw wild to the place and Cross scored. Allen tried to come in on the same error and was put out at the plate, Miller to Baldwin. Reilly got around to third base while all this was going on and scored on Hamilton's

Pittsburg scored in the fifth inning. Smith led off with a hard drive to right field which Thompson reached but failed to hold. Farrell hit to the left for a single and a base on balls to Kelly filled the bases. Baldwin brought in two runs with a hit to center field, which Delehanty fumbled, and a wild pitch brought Kelly home with the third run.

Philadelphia gathered a tally in its half of the inning on a base on balls, a passed ball and a fumble by Shugart and about the same combination, with a wild pitch in place of the fumble, gave Pittsburg one in the sixth inning.

The Phillies gathered four in their half on two wild throws to first base by Bald-win, Hamilton's double, a base on balls to Connor and Hallman's three-bagger to the flag pole, made with the bases full. Each side made one run in the seventh, burg on fumbles by Allen and Hallman, a base on balls and Bierbauer's sacrifice, and Philadelphia on a fumble by Beckley, a passed ball, Reilly's sacrifice and Shugart's wild throw. NICK'S ADVICE TO TONY.

President Young Urges Pitcher Mullane

CINCINNATI, July 28.-[Special.]-Tony Mullane yesterday received a long letter from President N. E. Young, of the National League advising him to at terms with the Cincinnati club officials and go to work with the team. Tony read the letter through carefully, but at the end was as steadfast as ever in his determination not to return to the Cincinnati club except at his original contract.

Tony is particularly bitter about the $200 transaction in which Captain Comiskey is a party. Tony insists that the Reds' captain promised to pay him $200 in May, and that he never received it. Captain Comiskey, when last spoken to,

said that the $200 was not to be paid until

Captain Comiskey, when last spoken to, said that the $200 was not to be paid until the end of the season, and then only in case the club made money.

Tony is no longer a "teater bloke," as his engagement with the Highland House company expired last week.

He said: "This is the second time I have been down town since I quit the club. I am living up in Wainut Hills now, and while this hot weather is on there is no place like it," -aid the great pitcher. "No, I am not loafing altogether. I practice a little every day just to keep my hand in. I know it looked a little hard for me to hold back when all the other members of the team stood the reduction, but I had done such good work for the club that I did not think the officials would suggest a cut.

"I get credit for being the only man that wouldn't stand a cut, but I know of two other members of the team who gave it out that their salaries had been reduced when I know better. I am sure they were not docked a cent. I am ready to pitch whenever they ask me. It they don't want me and I am kept idle I will come pretty near getting my money, for my contract is good.

"This, I think, will be my last season in the business anyhow. I have a brother-in-law who has a restaurant in Washington. He is doing nothing but business, and he wants me to go in with him. I am going to Chicago next Monday. I have 25 acres there in the suburbs, and I can sell it all at a profit of $400 an acre. I am not on the hog train if I am not working." of $400 an acre. I am going to sell ten acres next week and hold the balance. I am no on the hog train if I am not working."

LOCAL BALL CLUB TROUBLES.

Captain Burns States That He Is Still Manager and Will Stick to It.

The home team will return this morning after a very unfortunate trip. It is more un fortunate still that there is so much dissatisfaction regarding the management of the team and as long as it continues good work from the team cannot be expected. There are some very shrewd and honorable gentle-men financially interested in the club, and are some very shrewd and ho are some very shrewd and honorable gentlemen financially interested in the club, and it is not to be expected that they will allow this miserable difference about the management to continue.

The patrons of the game in Pittsburg demand it and it is sale to say that the club directors will be glad to make a change that promises to be beneficial. The Pittsburg club has been remarkable for conflicts regarding the management and it has been hoped that all these conflicts were over. But it seems as if the intes were against this devoutly wished for desideratum.

Yesterday we were informed that Captain Burns had been deposed and Manager Buckenberger reinstated. It is useless to disguise the fact that that statement was hailed with unbounded delight by local patrons of the game. But Captain Burns stated last eventing in Philadelphia that he has not been deposed at all, nor has his nower been curtailed. This is surprising, but not as surprising as the statement of the captain that he won't be deposed and that his contract will protect him for three years. It is safe to say that it will do no such thing.

Another statement from Philadelphia says that some of the players are sick of the management and that licekley wants to buy his release and get out of the team. This is a grave matter and one which the directorate should face at once. The work of the team since Captain Burns took full command has been had beyond all question. Something must be done at once.

The directors of the club need the sympany of their patrons just now and they are sure to get it if they not here one anything else.

Pleffer on His Trial. LOUISVILLE, July 28.—When the change was made in the baseball club here by which Pfeffer was made manager and captain, it was agreed that he should have absolute control and should be allowed to show what he could make out of the team. He was given till August 15 to be entirely free from interference. There is some com-plaint that the team is not winning, but the directors will stand by their contract and do nothing till the time has expired.

IRWIN GETS BERGER. The Pittsburg Catcher Goes to Washington and Condemns the Lottery Plan. John Berger, the catcher, returned from Indianapolis' yesterday and last evening left for Washington to join the club there. Manager Irwin accepted his terms yesterday afternoon and the Washington Club will get a good player.

During a conversation yesterday, Berger said: "Some of the League clubs are missing a good man in Larry Twitchell. He is in first-class condition and not drinking a drop. He is fielding as good as anybody in the League and hitting the ball sp'endidly and running bases as good as anybody can.
I tell you he is playing a great game. And I wonder why no League club has signed Stevens, the pitcher. He is a great nitcher and the best one I faced in the Western and the best one I faced in the western League."

Beryer went on to say that the Indianapolis club owes all its players each 18 days's salaries. A lawyer has been engaged to try and get it, but there is little hope of success against men like G. T. Brush. Beryer also bitterly condemned the "Milliem" plan, as he called it. He said: "Our club had four of the rankest players that ever crossd a diamond and yet we could not get clear of them. Our manager couldn't sign a player except the player came to us through the Western League Committee. That meant that we couldn't get any good players."

East Liverpool, July 28.—[Special.]—Homestead won here to-day in a rather rank game in which all took part in the yellow work, the Umpire included. Mercer of the Eclipse had his first off day of the senson, being hit safe nine times in four innings, besides being very wild. Daniels went in and stayed the victorious strikers, allowing but one hit in the remainder of the game.

THE Gym Reserves and Hazolwood Athletics play at the Gym Park to-morrow afternoon. The Reserves are putting up a good game and running bases the best of any of the local teams.

THE East End Gym Jrs. would like to play any local team to-morrow whose members are not over 16 years old. Arrangements can be made for a game at this office this afternoon at 3 o'clock. THE P. W. Burke hasn't the first elements of a second baseman in his professional make-up. He is uncertain, erratic and fails to grasp the duties which belongs to that west important usuition."

WHETHER the six club Eastern League will last through the season or not is a debatable question. Some of the clubs are in none too good a condition financially. Rochester is a big loser, and it is doubtful if she can last, "Jim" Franklin, the manager of the Buffalos, is also a loser, but he has plenty of money and he will not quit while the League lasts.

League lasts.

THE catching denartment of the Boston club is in a bad condition. Bennett is disabled from a split thumb. Ganzell's leg still bothers him, and Kelly is all used up from lameness. The management has hired Fred Lake, who caught for the team a part of last season, and who has this year been with the Milwaukee and Kansas City clubs of the Western Jeague; and he will serve till some of the other catchers get into shape. Lake is in prime condition, and will prove a good man.

M'AULIFFE IN TRAINING.

How the Lightweight Is Preparing to Meet Billy Myer.

BANGOR, ME., July 28 .- On the west bank of the Penobscot river, about six miles below Bangor, lies the pretty little post village of Hampden. It is here that Jack McAuliffe. the champion lightweight pugilist, has been doing his preparatory training for his fight with Billy Myer, the crack Western lightweight, at the Olympic Club, New Orleans, on Monday night, September 5, and upon the result of which $20,000 is at stake. The place is notatall new to Jack. About 20 years ago, when Jack's uncle, with whom he is stopping, came from Ireland he settled down in Hampden and worked in a little cooper shop, which still stands near Jack's training quarters. Jack went to school and learned his trade here. "No wonder I'm contented," said Jack. "I

"No wonder I'm contented," said Jack. "I have never felt better at this stage of training in all my life."

For six weeks McAuliffe has run every day from Hampden to Bangor and back, a l2-mile jaunt over a rough road, and he now weighs about 145 pounds. The only thing that Jack expresses any sorrow for in his approaching battle is that he did not make the match at 135 pounds or less instead of 138 pounds.

CLEVELAND'S BIG DAY

Seven Events Finished and Raven Gets the 2:27 Trotting Race.

NANCY HANKS BREAKS NO RECORD.

Honest George Trots Three Very Fast Heats, Winning the 2:17 Class.

FAVORITES DOWNED AT MONMOUTH

CLEVELAND, July 28.—Better conditions for fast harness racing no one could desire than those under which sport was continued o-day at Glenville Park. After the rain of yesterday the track was in superb shape and not a breath of wind was stirring to impede the trotters at any part of the mile. Attracted by the promised Nancy Hanks and Belle Hamlin-Globe against the clock, an enormous crowd filled the stands and overflowed the grounds.

Betting was fast and furious and es-pecially on the 2:17 trot. Backers of favorites beat every race. About 3 o'clock Doble gave Nancy a warming up mile in 2:1814, and about half an hour later when the track had been prepared everything was ready for the trim little mare to knock chips off the 2:083% of Maud S. Nancy looked in the pink of condition, but she had not to-day the free, bold gait of last season. Doble nodded for the word, but long before the half was reached in 1:073/4 it was evident to everyone that the result would be a failure, and when the figures 2:13 appeared on the notice board the announcement was received in dead silence.

nouncement was received in dead silence.

An hour later George brought out the Hamlin team to go against 2:13. The half was reached in 1:07 and from here Geers began using the whip. Globe broke and was unsteady for a hundred yards or more, but for this the second half could have been close to 1:05 and this would have made the effort a winning one. The best part of the mile was the finish up the stretch, when both trotting level and steady the last quarter was covered in a fraction better than a 2:11 gait. than a 2:11 gait.

MONNOUTH PARK RACE TRACK, July 28 .-Fair weather, a fast track and some good racing combined to make the 5,000 spectators satisfied with their afternoon's outing at Monmouth to-day. Bernen then brought out a shower of applause by taking the Newark stakes with Adelbert. Lustre's stable companion. He was a a 20 to 1 chance and Bergen's riding against Taral on Leonawell was a really clever piece of horsemanship. In this race Locohatchee bolted and scraped Hamilton's leg against the rail. Locohatchee lost fully half a dozen lengths because of the accident. He should have won. The veterans Hayward and Donohue, iddulged in a setto at the finish for the fifth race, but Donohue's Rebecca Rowett colt stopped badly in the last furlong and permitted Ductor, 4 to 1, Hayward, to win by a head.

Jockey Keith Dead. CHICAGO, July 28.—[Special.]—Johnny Keith, the colored lightweight jockey, satally injured at Garfield Park on Monday, died at the county hospital yesterday morning. He did not regain consciousness from the time be was buried to the track off Freelight's saddle. The lad was very popular among owners, trainers and regular habitues of the race track and his untimely death was the medium of heartfelt sympathy expressed for his family, whose support he was. A fund is to be raised for the Keith family and the Garfield Park Club has started it with a generous subscription. Keith bore the reputation of an honest rider, was most attentive to his work and showed constant improvement in his ability to handle race horses. He was under contract to ride for T. D. Carter, of Chicago, and was always in demand for outside mounts. So well did he handle the reins at the Garfield Park spring meeting that he shared first honors in the total of winning mounts with Hoggett, each having landed 18 horses first past the winning post. Keith had a very fair seat, was clever in setting away from the flag and was considerable of an artist in forcing out a horse's speed at the finish. He promised to lead among jockeys of his weight in the West.

A SUCCESSFUL REGATTA. Three Fine Races Wind Up the Natio

Amateur Contests. Saratoga, July 28.—[Special.]—The twenty first annual regatta of the National Associa tion of Amateur Oarsmen was brought to a conclusion this forenoon by three of the best contested races of the meet. The regatta, with the exception of the mistake in placing the turning buoys too close gatta, with the exception of the mistake in placing the turning buoys too closs was a success and proved that turning races can be successfully rowed. Notwithstanding the rumors that turning races will not be rowed again, it is the determination of the regatta committee to try them again next year and give them a fair trial. There is no doubt but had the turning buoys been placed far enough upart there would not have been any fouling.

The races to-day were the row off of the races in which fouls occurred yesterday. The water was in better condition to-day than on the other two and each race was very hotly contested. The first event rowed off was the pair oars. The contestants were: Iona B. C., of Philadelphia, P. E. Huneker, bow; S. D. Hecht, stroke; Nonpareil, B. C., New York, W. E. Cody, bow; J. A. Delaney, stroke: Atalanta, B. C., New York, M. Lan, bow with Lan stroke. The race was a hot one from start to the turning buoy, where the Atalantas nearly fouled the Nonpareils through turning the wrong buoy. The Atalantas won by a length and a half in 10:18%.

The second event was the junior four shells, between the crews of the Ariels, of Baltimore; Astoria Athletic Club, of Long Island, and Atalantas, of New York. The Atlantas, through bad steering after the turn, rowed a way off the course and lost the race, the Ariels winning in 9:29.

The last and concluding race of the regatta was the row off in the senior race between the crews of the Wyandotte Boat Club, of Michigan; Arronant, of Toronto, and Modoc, of St. Louis, Mo. The Modocs had the best of its from the half to and argund the turn up to the mile and a quarter, when the Wyandottes took the lead and won in nine minutes, a couple of lengths ahead of the Modocs.

Yesterday afternoon at 6 o'clock, as he stood on the scales, clothed only in his modesty, on the scales, clothed only in his modesty, he tipped the beam at 219½ pounds. Phil Casey says he intends to take only 9½ more pounds off the champion, which will reduce him to 210 pounds. The heat at Canos Place Inn has been terrific for the past two days, and Sullivan has suffered a good deal. Sullivan said yesterday that he would not again endure the tortures of training for $100,000. Phil Casey says that within a year after the big fight at New Orleans Sullivan will weigh 300 pounds.

THE GREAT BICYCLIST.

Zimmerman Returns From Europe With Lots of Victories.

HE SPEAKS WELL OF HIS JOURNEY.

His Opinion of Osmond and the British Wheelmen Generally.

THE AMERICANS ARE THE BEST

SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, July 28 .- Arthur A. Zimerman, the crack bicyclist of the New York Athletic Club, returned from abroad yesterday morning on the City of Paris, and was warmly welcomed home. A party of prominent wheelmen chartered the Crystal Stream to go down the bay and take Zimmerman from the steamer, but the City of Paris got ahead of his friends. As the Crystal Stream was casting loose from her lock at the foot of Vesey street, North river, with a party of 200 wheelmen and Cappa's Seventh Regiment Band aboard, the City of Paris hove in sight.

The chartered steamer ran out into the stream and steamed alongside of the City of Paris, where, amid music and great shouting. Zimmerman soon made his appearance. The Crystal Stream then steamed up to the Inman line dock and waited to take Zimmerman off the queen of the ocean steamers and souvey him to Asbury Park, where the Asbury Park wheelmen desired to honor him with a dinner.

His Reception Was a Hearty One.

After a delay of over an hour Zimmerman's baggage was finally secured and car-ried to the steamer on the shoulders of his friends. Zummerman was accompanied by his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph McDermott. He was cordially re-ceived, and a pleasant sail was enjoyed to Asbury Park. The residents there had been apprised of Zimmerman's arrival, and as the Crystal Streamshove in sight she was greeted with the roar of caunous from the blg fishing pier, which was crowded with people. When directly off Asbury Park a people. When directly off Asbury Park a lifeboat put out from the shore containing Founder Bradley, who welcomed Zimmer-man and his friends, and informed them that the town was theirs.

Zimmerman's arrival upon shore was the signal for another outbreak. A big pro-cession was formed and headed by a brass band. Zimmerman was borne along upon the shoulders of his admirers to the Ocean House, where he sat down to dinner. Late in the afternoon, in company with his father, he left for Manasquan. A big delegation of the Freehold Board of Trade ame down to greet him, and they intend holding a big reception in his honor soon. He Was Well Treated Abroad.

In speaking of his trip to a reporter Zim-merman spoke in high terms of the treat-ment he received. He left America early in ment he received. He left America early in February, and, while not accomplishing his main object, namely, in meeting the much-talked-of F. J. Osmond, he had a highly successful and enjoyable trip, Zimmerman claims that Osmond avoided every race in which he was entered until the tea-mile Brixton cup event, run two days after the 50-mile N. C. U. championship race, which Zimmerman won. The American racer stated that his 50-mile ride had stiffened him considerably, and considering that Osmond was entirely fresh and had refused to meet him throughout his stay, he saw no reason why he should race. The English tracks, Zimmerman thinks, are not superior, as reported, to those in America. He thinks the Springfield, Mass., track equally as fast as the famous Herne Hill course. In comparing the foreign and American racing men, he tavored the Americans. He thinks that an American team could easily discount the foreign racers. He also says that the Englishmen have got handicapping down to a

He won 14 first, three second and two third prizes while abroad, the trophies con-sisting mostly of silverware. In addition to winning the one, five and 50-mile National Cyclists' Union championships, he broke a number of English records. Zimmerman gained some five pounds during his absence. He looks big and healthy, and his triends anticipate that at Asbury Park on August 4 and 5, he will ride taster than when in

JIM CORBETT'S VISITORS.

Captain Williams, Phil Dwyer and Others

Look in at the Puzillat. NEW YORK, July 28 .- [Special.]-Jim Corbett kept up his regular course of training yesterday despite the fact that a host of friends came to see him. He, of course, punched his old friend, the bag, and played a hard game of hand ball with a Brooklyn expert, and won, too.

Among the many visitors at the cozy cottage were Colonel McLewee, of Philadelphia, one of Corbett's confident backers; George Morgan, "Phil" Dwyer, the final stakeholder of the great match; many sporting men from Long Island and New York, and Captain Williams, of the Olympic Club. The genial Captain thought Corbett was in prime condition and was delighted with the quarters Manager Brady selected. In fact, he said they were the most desirable training quarters he had yet seen in his travels.

Since the Pritchard-Hall fight is declared off on account of Pritchard's backers not wishing him to come to America, Captain Williams, as the representative of the Olympic Club, is trying to get the Dixon-Skelly fight on for September. He has offered, on behalf of the club, a norse of $7,500. When asked what the sentiment in the South was he said:

"Each man has a great number of friends. Corbett's stock has surely risen within the last two months, and betting will be pretty near even when the first comes off. Some of Sullivan's best friends—men who have always backed him—have expressed the lear to me that Sullivan is fighting one too many battles."

PRITCHARD WON'T COME.

His Backer Declines to Allow the Englishman to Fight in America. New York, July 28.—Captain Williams, manager of the Olympic Club, of New Orleans, says that he is not eager to secure someone to fight Bob Fitzsimmons just for the sake of the club making money, but to keep faith with the sporting public. He says Charles Noel, the President of the club, decided to have three championship fights on September 5, 6 and 7, and he is eager to keep his word.

While the Captain was talking on the subject a cable dispatch was received. It read as follows: "George Baird, better known as 'Squire Abington, who is backing Ted Pritchard, refuses to allow him to go to America to decide his contest with Jem Hall."

This settled the Patchard Mall Annual Contest with Jem Conte

This settled the Pritchard-Hall deal, and the Captain then telegraphed the backer of George Dixon offering a purse of $7,000 for a fight between Dixon and Jack Skelly in his club on August 6.

Ryan Will Got Fair Play. OMAHA, July 28,-An erroneous idea has got in circulation in Chicago and other cities that Tom Ryan, the champion welter weight, will not be given a square deal at South Omaha next Saturday night in the fight with Jack Wilks, of St. Louis. The club is composed of the very best class of capitalists and business men, who will suffer nothing but honest and straigntforward work. A building with a seating capacity of 2,000 has been constructed with seats built about the ring amphitheater fashion. The men will fight for a purse of $3,500, winner to take all. Both are in fine condition and confident of winning. A mammoth crowd will be in attendance and one of the best contests of the davis auticipated. There has been considerable betting at evens, but it is expected that the night of the light the Chicago crowd will offer odds on Ryan. Omaha next Saturday night in the fight with

It is understood that before the beginning of next season the Herne Hill track, the surface of which is none too good, though it is so scientifically built that it is very fast, will be comented. It expected that this will make it many seconds faster in the mile than it is now.

Pessara idd some strong work hast week and does not go lame, so there is a chance for Campbell to show the public that he does not underrate Pessara. Pessara.

MATT ALLEN is likely to lose Ike Murphy's services for the rest of the season, as the colored jockey was angry because Taral received the mount on Don Alonzo. F. A. Ehret says that he leaves everything to his trainer, and Allen can do as he likes in regard to Murphy. Colonel F. C. McLewee said that he had lost $18,000 on Don Alonzo with Murphy on his back, but that he won $5,000 of to back lest Saturday with Taral in the saddle, and that he thought a change of riders often worked wonders with some horses. At the same time the newspapers hint at trickery and call the Ehret out-fit the Longshot stable.
